This unique and informative course is delivered by well known and award winning practitioner, David Houston. He is widely acknowledged as a leading exponent of facial aesthetic medicine having lectured extensively at such events as the World Aesthetic Congress, the British Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry and authored over 24 articles in the professional press.

The course is designed to give delegates individual attention and so ensure a solid grounding in the theory, application and pharmacology of the subject, focusing on the techniques required to ensure successful outcomes and satisfied patients. An extensive 'hands-on' element is included within the course in order to allow delegates to treat their own patients under supervision on the day and thus gain confidence in practically applying the methods taught

The venue is the in-house lecture theatre at the five star, state of the art Houston Group based in Weston-super-Mare, Somerset. Delegates will also have the opportunity to gain hands on experience.

David and his wife Ceri, are joint Practice Principals of the largest NHS/Private practice in the country, which they have built up from the purchase of an original two-surgery business in 1990.

The Houston Group inow provides routine and specialist care for 70,000 patients a year and employs over 100 staff in the 31 surgeries and two associated on-site dental laboratories. They have also recently established new branch practices in Ham Green and Clevedon.
